

Summary of Sermon

We have been looking at the names of God. These all show different aspects of God's character.

In Exodus 15.22-27, God reveals himself as Jehovah Rapha, the Lord who heals!

When we, like Moses look to God and ask him for help, we can expect to receive the instruction from him that will bring about salvation, deliverance, healing.

The experience at Marah began as a disappointment to the thirsty Israelites, but God again showed them that he can turn even a situation like that into relief and joy.

Questions

1. There can be a lot of grumbling and disappointment in the world. What gives us the courage to believe and hope, in opposition to the negativity that's all around?
2. Think about and discuss what your own expectation of God is? And why you are confident of that?
3. God is healer and redeemer – he sent his son, Jesus – he cares.
Who relies on you to be like Moses for them? What is our role as Christians in the world?
